

Mrs. Blumenschein Is Dead At State Center

State Center — (Special) — Mrs. William Blumenschein, 57, and a native of Marshall county, died at her home in State Center at 5:30 Wednesday evening after an illness of a few months.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 2:30 p. m. Friday in charge of Rev. John F. Maze, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which she was a member. Burial will be in Eden cemetery at Rhodes.

Fayette Hildreth was born Dec. 11, 1888, at Rhodes, the daughter of Charles F. and Adah Hildreth. Her first marriage was to Lloyd Kennison in 1913. He died March 27, 1917. They were the parents of one son, C. F. Kennison, a service dischargee, who lives in State Center with his wife and daughter.

She was married later to William Blumenschein in October, 1921, in Chicago, Ill. One daughter was born to the couple, Miss Marjorie Blumenschein, a junior in Grinnell college. May 24/1924

Mrs. Blumenschein was graduated from the Rhodes high school and also from Highland Park Business college. She was a member of the American Legion auxiliary, the Garden club and the Woman's club, all of State Center.

Besides her widower, son and daughter, and her parents, she is survived by one brother and three sisters, all of Rhodes. They are Wayne Hildreth, Mrs. Susan Thompson, Mrs. Ova Snowgren and Mrs. Gladys Sween. She is also survived by one grandchild.
