Former Collins Man Died In Des Moines Home

Special to the Journal: 1937

Collins, July 14 — Clarence Campbell, 59, member of one of the pioneer families of Jasper county, just south of Collins, died late Tuesday afternoon at his home at 1626 East Ninth street, Des Moines.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the Church of Christ here and burial will be in the family lot in the Collins cemetery.

He was born July 25, 1878 and was the youngest living son of the late Ira and Emily Campbell, who had their home for many years on a farm over the line in Jasper county, 2½ miles south of Collins.

Clarence was a lad of 13 when the family moved into Collins and here he grew to manhood, and was later married to Miss Mae James of Warren county.

She with one daughter, Zela, now Mrs. Zela Ozmun, survives him. He also leaves a sister Miss Alice Campbell and three brothers Curtis, Ellsworth and Frank, all of Collins.

Mr. Campbell, who had lived in Des Moines since 1920, had been failing rapidly in health for the past few years, in spite of changes of climate and other precautions taken.

Obituary

Clarence E. Campbell, son of Ira and Emily Campbell, was born July 25, 1878, at Clyde, Jasper county, Iowa, and passed away July 13, 1937, at his home, 1626 East 9th street, Des Moines, Ia. after several months illness which he bore with the utmost patience.

On May 8, 1901, he was married to Mae James of Palmyra, Warren county, Ia. To this union was born one daughter, Mrs. Zela Ozmun, who since the death of her husband has resided with her parents.

Mr. Campbell's boyhood days were spent in and about Collins, where also after his marriage the family lived until 1920, when they moved to Des Moines, where they have since resided.

Surviving the deceased are his wife, Mae. and daughter, Mrs. Zela Ozmun; one sister, Allie; three brothers, Elsworth, Curt and Frank, all of Collins. Also surviving are three nephews, Lloyd, Ralph and Ira Campbell, and a host of friends and neighbors. Two sisters and two brothers preceded him in death.

While Mr. Campbell never affiliated with any religious organization, he had high ideals as to his manner of living and a very great regard and respect for his fellowman's convictions and welfare.

Those who were fortunate enough to have had a personal contact and acquaintance with the deceased readily observed his unquestionable loyalty to his family and associates in both social and business circles.

Mr. Campbell was very thoughtful of his neighbors and friends during sickness and misfortune; always ready to lend a helping hand when such needs arose.

His passing means a very distinct loss to his loved ones, his friends and his community.

The soul of Clarence Campbell has passed on but his memories shall live.

(This sketch was prepared by his neighbors who have considered it a great privilege to be such.)
