

Clarke, E. B. J. 3-29-1933

Funeral services for the late E. B. Clarke, who met tragic death at his home in Colo Wednesday afternoon, were held at the Nevada Methodist Episcopal church Monday and were attended by a group of old neighbors and friends that well filled the main body of the church.

While the funeral sermon was preached by his long time friend C. E. Lookingbill, a number of other pastors assisted in the service. Scripture was read by Rev. Harold Stark of the Marion street church of Boone, prayer was offered by Rev. W. Scheuermann, pastor of the Methodist church of Colo and Maxwell, a vocal solo "Face to Face" was sung by Rev. William Bainbridge of Centerville, and the obituary was read and personal remarks made by Rev. Geo. A. Lawton, pastor of the Nevada Methodist church.

The songs were by a male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Hathaway, Stevens, Wendell and Fawcett, with Ted Christensen at the organ.

There were many friends and relatives here for the services and included among them were many from the Colo and Maxwell neighborhoods.

The Masonic lodge was in charge of the interment.
