

THE RHODES TRIBUNE

Friday, January 12, 2001

Kay Dare, 39, of Melbourne and formerly of Rhodes, died December 24, 2000 at the University Hospitals in Iowa City. Services were held Dec. 28 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in State Center with burial in St Joseph's Catholic Cemetery in Rhodes.

She was born November 15, 1961, in Rhodes to Robert and Delores Mitchell Clawson. She was raised in Rhodes and attended West Marshall Schools until moving to Deer Park, Texas where she graduated from Deer Park High School. She attended San Jac Junior College.

She married Larry Dare on May 22, 1981, in Angleton, Texas. She returned to Melbourne 10 years age. She was the office manager for Service Master of Marshalltown.

She was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, active in the Altar and Rosary Societies. She was chairman of the board for the Rhodes Little League Baseball Association, and a member of the Organ Donor Society of Des Moines.

Our heartfelt sympathies to her husband; her parents, two sons, Clinton and Dustin, and daughter, Katie Dare, all of Melbourne; her brothers; Jimmy Clawson of Green Mountain, David (Lisa) Clawson of Indiana, Doug (Cathy) Clawson of Marshalltown, and Paul (Tess) Clawson of Marshalltown; her sisters; Mary Clawson, Hope Fife, and Susan (Rick) Fahlbush, all of Deer Park, and her many friends in the area.