

Dunahoo, Lloyd

d 5-03-1903

Lloyd Dunahoo Drowned

The son of Mat R. Dunahoo, aged 20 years, was drowned in the Des Moines river at Des Moines Sunday morning. Lloyd and a companion had been boating, the boat capsized, and he was drowned. His companion was saved.

Deceased was a student of the Capital City Commercial College of Des Moines was a bright student and was about to graduate. He was well known to the young people of the Maxwell and Collins neighborhoods.

Funeral services were held by the students at Des Moines, after which the remains were brought to ~~the~~ ~~city~~ ~~hall~~ on the noon train Monday.

The funeral was held at the E. U. church, Iowa Center, Tuesday, and the interment was at the Iowa Center Cemetery. Harley Gearhart was one of the pall bearers. Euclid Harsh attended the funeral. The sorrow is universal for the bereaved family.

Collins Clipper

5-07-1903