

Eubank, Laurel Guy d. 10-15-1977

Laurel G. Eubank

MAXWELL Laurel Guy (Bud) Eubank, 75, died suddenly at his home in Maxwell Saturday morning of a heart attack. Funeral services will be held from the Cooper Funeral Home in Maxwell on Tuesday at 11 a.m. Rev. Gaylan Dechious will officiate with burial in the Collins Cemetery.

Eubank had been employed at Iowa Electric in Ames for 38 years as a welder.

Survivors include his wife, Blanche, and several nieces and nephews.

LAUREL GUY EUBANK

Services were held Oct. 18 for Laurel Guy Eubank in the Cooper funeral Home in Maxwell with Rev. Gaylon Decious and Rev. Oscar Barrow in charge.

Laurel Guy Eubank, son of Blanche Curtis and John Eubank, was born March 6, 1902 at Lucas County, Ia.

He died Oct. 15, 1977 at home in Maxwell, Ia. where his entire life was spent. He was a member of The Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints and spent 38 years of active service for the Iowa Electric and Power Co. at Ames, Ia. and retired in 1967.

Survivors are Blanche Hennick Eubank whom he married on Aug. 2, 1932 in Nevada, Ia., as well as several nieces and nephews, plus great grand nieces and nephews.

Nevada
Journal

10-27-1977