

Eubank, Marion

d. 1965

Marion Eubank of Mingo Suffers Fatal Heart Attack

Marion Eubank, 74, of Mingo; 16 grandchildren; two brothers, Guy of Franklin Ark., and Benjamin of Ridgecrest, Calif., and a half-brother, Raymond of Jacksonville, Fla.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Mingo Methodist Church. Burial was in Union Chapel Cemetery at Ira.

Boyd-Nickel Funeral Home at Baxter was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Dale Harter was the organist, Mrs. Max Butler, soloist.

Pallbearers were Alfred Eatwell, Jack Womeldorff, Glenn Baker, Ralph Crozier, Albert Toms, and Russell Southern.

Survivors are his wife, Iva; two sons, William of Waterloo and Harold of Pontiac, Ill.; two daughters, Mrs. Marion (Louise) Henry of Davenport and Mrs. Glen (Ruth) Noring

He is preceded in death by his parents; a daughter in infancy; a sister and a brother.

Mr. Eubank was a member of the Ira Christian Church.

The son of William and Arlena Eubank, he was born in August, 1890 at Mt. Carmel, Ill., and was educated in rural schools.

He married Elizabeth Obenchain in 1911 and she died in 1914.

Mr. Eubank, who moved to the Mingo area in 1915, was married to Iva Cambell April 1, 1917 at Newton and they farmed near Ira until 1928 when they moved to a farm west of Mingo.

After retiring in 1958, they moved to Mingo.

COLLINS

CLIPPER