McGregor, Clayton County, Iowa, Thursday, November 28, 1918

A family by the name of Hall was found here last week Wednesday in destitute circumstances. There were the father, the mother, and three children. They had been here a little time and when discovered, were without fuel or food. The man was dead, had died in the night. Prompt relief steps were taken to care for the others and they were given food and other necessities. The father of the family was given a decent burial. It is stated they came here from Allamakee County but had resided here some years ago.

(Discovered by Jerry Hale, July 23, 1994 at the McGregor Public Library. This is the only mention of our grandfather, Frank Hall, passing away. No mention of the death of Mrs. Anna (Eno) Bailey was found although she died the day before and was buried the day after in the same cemetery in an adjacent plot.)
