Death of Wm. Halterman.

In our last issue we briefly referred to the death of Wm. Halterman at his home in Canby, Minn. The sad news came as a shock to the relatives and friends of deceased. He had been here on a visit a few months ago and his sudden death was not at all expected. He was only ill for a few days, when heart failure and death ensued.

Wm. Halterman was born Feb. 25, 1875, at Palmyra, Iowa, and died at Canby, Minn., Dec. 1st, 1910. He was married to Miss Rosa Johnson in Collins July 1, 1896. To this union was born one child, Leona. He grew to manhood in this community and was respected and esteemed by a large circle of friends. He leaves his wife and daughter, father, stepmother, four brothers and two sisters and many friends to mourn their loss.

The mother of deceased died when he was thirteen months old, and his stepmother was a true mother to him. She and his aged father are greatly grieved because of his death. He was a model boy and one of the most popular men in Collins where he was a farmer and business man. Two years ago the family moved to Canby. He was devoted to his wife and daughter and their loss in his death calls forth the sincere sympathy of all.

The remains were brought to Collins. The funeral was held in the Christian Church Saturday. Rev. S. M. Zike preached the sermon, a tender sympathetic message. The large congregation appreciated the preacher's words. A quartette of efficient singers rendered beautiful selections. Crescent Camp M. W. A. finished the exercises in the church with ritual of the order for the departed. The interment was at Evergreen Cemetery.

The heartfelt sympathies of all our people are given to the bereaved wife and daughter, the parents, brothers and sisters of the departed.
