Lois Hanson Obituary

Lois Hanson was born August 30, 1902, and died July 22, 1912, at the age of nine years, ten months and twenty-two days.

Little Lois was of such a loving disposition that all who knew her loved her. She will be greatly missed by playmates and schoolmates, but in the home her happy, cheerful presence will be missed the most. Her gentle manner won her many friends. Her nature was to love and to be loved. Earth has lost a bloom of promise, but heaven has gained a bright and shining star.

The funeral was held in the Ashton church yesterday afternoon. The church was crowded with sympathizing friends and neighbors of the bereaved parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hanson, and family. The sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. R. T. Hodgson and was a comforting discourse to the mourners. A chorus choir sang fitting spiritual songs and the floral tributes were very beautiful.

The interment was at the Ashton cemetery. The pall bearers were Mabel Hanson, Genevieve and Geraldine Fawcett and Gwendolyn Parker.

Besides the father and mother, Lois is mourned by one sister and four brothers: Grace, Harold, Lars, Hollis and James.

To these this community, both country and town, extend heartfelt sympathy in the loss of daughter and sister.

She was frail of body, yet assumed responsibilities like one of mature years.

She was a flower of beauty. To see her was to love her.
