

Horn, Doyle Howard

d. 1991

DOYLE HOWARD HORN

The Register's Iowa News Service

COLLINS, IA. — Doyle H. Horn, 77, of Collins died Thursday of a stroke at Mary Greeley Medical Center in Ames. Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Collins United Methodist Church, with burial in Cory Grove Cemetery at Elkhart.

Mr. Horn was born in Monroe and moved in 1939 to Collins, where he farmed until 1987. He was a member of the United Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Faye; a son, Gary of Collins; a daughter, Linda Dunahoo of Gilbert; a brother, Ralph of Des Moines; seven grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

A prayer service will be at 7 p.m. today at Cooper Funeral Home, where friends may call from 1 to 9 p.m.

Doyle H. Horn

Sept. 19, 1913, - May 16, 1991

Doyle Howard Horn, 77, of Collins died from complications of a stroke May 16 at Mary Greeley Medical Center.

He was born Sept. 19, 1913, in Monroe to Aaron and Hazel (McFarland) Horn. He was a resident of Collins for 52 years and worked as a farmer. On March 27, 1938, he married Faye Van Wey. He was a member and certified lay speaker in the Methodist Church in Collins.

Survivors include his wife of Collins; one son, Gary Horn of Collins; one daughter, Linda Dunahoo of Gilbert; seven grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; and one brother, Ralph of Des Moines.

A prayer service and visitation were held Friday, May 17, at Cooper Funeral Home in Maxwell. Services were held Saturday, May 18, at Collins United Methodist Church. Burial was at Cory Grove Cemetery, Elkhart.