
Lost His Life to Save His Horses.

ELDONA, Ia., April 18.—A large barn containing considerable grain and a number of horses burned Wednesday evening on the farm of John Kirk, a few miles north of town. While fighting the flames and trying to save his stock the old man rushed into the fire and was so terribly scorched that he died.
