

April WM. G. LUING² - 1936
William G. Luing, 70, well known and respected Collins resident, died suddenly of a heart attack March 24, death occurring at the office of the Wilder Grain company, where he had been employed.

Mr. Luing was born on a farm southeast of Collins July 8, 1866, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Luing. He had lived his entire life in the neighborhood, the last fifteen years being spent in Collins.

He had been employed at various grain elevators and was for several years a school bus driver.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Alice Pence about 47 years ago and she and six children survive. The children are: one daughter, Mrs. Maurice Robinson, and sons, Fred, Orville, Lyle, Lowell and Dwight, all of Collins. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Joe Davis of Rhodes and Mrs. Anna Ball of Collins and brothers, Harry, Jack and Fred of Minnesota, and Ernest of Baxter. There are also a number of grandchildren.
