

EMERSON W. PRANG

Emerson W. Prang, 62, 1813 7th Ave. N., a retired sales man for Fort Dodge Machine and Supply Company, was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital this morning. He had been in ill health.

Among survivors is the widow, Gertrude and two daughters.

Services are pending at Bruce Funeral Home.

EMERSON W. PRANG

Services for Emerson W. (Jim) Prang, 62, 1813 7th Ave. N., will be 9 a.m. Thursday in Bruce Memorial Chapel and at 9:30 in Corpus Christi Catholic Church. The Rev. Msgr. E. L. McEvoy, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Corpus Christi Cemetery with a flag presentation by members of World War I Veterans and American Legion Post No. 130.

Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock this evening at the funeral home where friends may call after 2 p.m. today.

Mr. Prang was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital Tuesday. He was taken to the hospital after becoming suddenly ill at home. His health had been failing for a year.

Surviving are the widow, Gertrude; daughters: Mrs. Deane Glaman and Miss Kathleen Prang, both of Fort Dodge; three grandsons; a brother and sisters: Eldred O. Prang, and Mrs. Clarence Kammerrer, both of Fort Dodge, and Mrs. Roland Laird, Fremont, Neb.

Born at Boone, Mr. Prang came to Fort Dodge with his family and attended school here. In 1933 he married Gertrude Hillman at Moorland and they lived in Fort Dodge. For many years he was associated with Iowa Auto Supply Company, then as sales representative for the Fort Dodge Machine and Supply Company. He recently retired from that position. Mr. Prang was a veteran of World War II, having served with the U.S. Army in the Philippines, was a past vice commander of the Fort Dodge American Legion and a member of the Forty and Eight Club.