Marion Vasey, 90

Marion Vasey, 90, of Sparks, Nev., died Tuesday, March 12, in Sparks.

Services were held Tuesday, March 19, and burial was in Colfax, Iowa.

Marion Vasey was born in Collins to Henry and Ola Vasey, where he lived until moving to California after World War II. Most of his life after the war was spent as a police officer in Piedmont, Calif., the last 15 or so as that city's juvenile officer. He declined an offer to be chief of police because he so enjoyed working with young people. He had been a magistrate in Collins and was very proud of his birthplace and hometown.

His wife, Mary "Eph," 90, a Colfax, Iowa native, will now reside with her nephew, Gary, in the State of Washington.
