On March 3, 1945, she was united in marriage with Donald Simpson Huntsrods of Collins. To this union nine children were born, all of whom were able to be near her to comfort her in her last illness. Most of this happy married life was spent in the vicinity of Collins.

Surviving are her husband, D. S. Huntsrods, the children, Donna Ose and Margaret Struthers of Collins, Myrl Lauffer of Marshalltown, Lucille White of Rhodes, Ethel Clark of Yuma, Ariz., and William, Roger, Donald and Mary Lee at home, and four grandchildren, Marilyn and Patty White, and John and Donald Lee Struthers. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Lloyd Powless, five brothers and sisters and several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Huntsrods was always interested in doing her part to make the community a better place for her children to live in by helping with church and school activities before ill health forced her to quit.

When a young girl she was united with the Church of Christ in Newton, later moving her membership to Collins. During her life she was a devoted Christian wife and mother who put the welfare of her loved ones above all else.

On March 3, 1945, she was united in marriage with Donald Simpson Huntsrods of Collins. To this union nine children were born, all of whom were able to be near her to comfort her in her last illness. Most of this happy married life was spent in the vicinity of Collins.

Surviving are her husband, D. S. Huntsrods, the children, Donna Ose and Margaret Struthers of Collins, Myrl Lauffer of Marshalltown, Lucille White of Rhodes, Ethel Clark of Yuma, Ariz., and William, Roger, Donald and Mary Lee at home, and four grandchildren, Marilyn and Patty White, and John and Donald Lee Struthers. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Lloyd Powless, five brothers and sisters and several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Huntsrods was always interested in doing her part to make the community a better place for her children to live in by helping with church and school activities before ill health forced her to quit.

When a young girl she was united with the Church of Christ in Newton, later moving her membership to Collins. During her life she was a devoted Christian wife and mother who put the welfare of her loved ones above all else.

Funeral Service For Collins Woman On Sunday Afternoon

Collins, June 9: Funeral service for the late Mrs. Vera Huntsrods, 50, who passed away Friday morning in the Iowa Lutheran Hospital in Des Moines, will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at the U. B. Church in Collins. Burial will be in the Collins cemetery.